

TERRIDA

ME CAMPIO FORTIS

Terrida, the Venetian company that produces handmade bags in Venice, was born from the Italian tradition of fashion and the cult of details

The story of Terrida begins in the seventies when Anna and Sergio Terrida start an artisan production of leather goods, dedicating to us passion, innovative spirit and love to create original pieces of Italian craftsmanship, designed and produced entirely in Italy and especially in Venice.

Their children Pierluigi and Monica, learned the secrets of the trade from an early age, in 1985 decided to continue and transform the previous activity of their parents, creating new items in step with the needs and requirements not only of the traveler, but also of the sportsman. From travel bags to suitcases, from sports bags to golf bags, the company's mission is to dedicate itself to luxury combined with traditional craftsmanship and modern technology for the creation of a prestigious product. Products designed and created for people with a simple and refined taste at the same time.

Today Terrida is a brand known all over the world for its high quality products, whose production is MADE IN ITALY. The passion for luxury led Terrida to create a line dedicated to these world, becoming fundamental in their production.
